Fall 2024

Happy 28th Anniversary to Penobscot Shores!

We always have a good time at our anniversary parties and our 28th was no different. Because of the threat of showers, we decided to move the event under our carport area which provided a great venue for a group of residents to decorate in the morning while the barbecue was started by Mainely Pig Roasts. Our Chefs Emmerson, Ryan and Ladonna took care of the refreshments and yummy pinacolato cupcakes. Anni and the Rainmakers played some old favorites and all relaxed and had a good time with fellow residents and Priority Waiting List members.

Residents took a field trip to the University of Maine in Orono over the summer to the Advance Structures & Composite Center. They are seen here in front of BioHome 3D, the first 3-D printed house made entirely of bio-based materials. They toured a number of other areas including wind blade testing, ocean engineering, structural thermoplastics and smart materials.

I do

We had our first resident wedding this summer at Penobscot Shores. Linda and Lou celebrated their nuptials with residents, family, and friends to witness the happy occasion in our courtyard.

Honey

We checked the beehives all summer and the girls never capped over the honey cells so we thought this might be a year without honey. On a whim, we decided to check one last time in September and lo and behold the honey frames were capped over and we pulled off 5 gallons of honey.

Annual Arts & Crafts Fair

Looking for honey, stop by our Annual Arts & Crafts Fair on Saturday, November 16 at the Ocean House from 9 AM to 1 PM. Residents, staff and area artists and crafters will have numerous creations and delectables for your holiday shopping.
